Published four times a year, in November, January, March, and May, by the national society of Eta Sigma Phi. The office of publication is 213 Ellis Hall, Ohio University, Athens, Ohio. All matters relating to publication should be sent to the Editor in Chief.

Entered as second-class matter December 16, 1940, at the post office at Athens, Ohio, under the Act of August 24, 1912.

A Change of National Officers

In the March issue of the NUNTIUS we announced that tentative plans had been formed for a meeting of the members of the Executive Council. Unfortunately this was not found possible, and since the time of publication of that number of the magazine we have lost not only our Megas Grammateus, now Private Krieger, to the Army but also our Megas Prytanis, Grayson Clary, to the Navy. Officers have been appointed to serve in their places, and Mr. Rhys Williams, of Alpha Epsilon Chapter, will take over the duties of president, and Mr. John R. Maguire, of Beta Zeta Chapter, has been selected to serve as secretary. Miss Mangiaracina, of Alpha Chi, continues as Megas Chrysophylax.

Beta Zeta Takes Lead in New Organization

In times like these it is always pleasant to find evidence of growth and increased influence and activity on the part of members of Eta Sigma Phi everywhere. Information has come to the office of the foundation of a new organization under the leadership of one of our newest chapters, Beta Zeta.

The Missouri Academy of Science which meets annually sponsors a Collegiate Department; and in this department Beta Zeta Chapter took the lead in forming a College Philology Section. A meeting was held on April 16 at which Miss Harriet Padberg, prytanis of Beta Zeta, acted as chairman. Representatives of five St. Louis institutions attended. A program of papers was given, and the group adopted a constitution and elected officers for next year. Mr. John R. Maguire, who is serving as acting Megas Grammateus, was chosen as chairman of the group for next year.

Professor W. C. Korfmacher, adviser of Beta Zeta, is serving this year as president of the Missouri Academy of Science.

Summary of the Work of Latin-Week Committee

At the National Convention last spring it was decided that Eta Sigma Phi might contribute effectively this year in the high school program if members were to work with Professor A. Pelzer Wagener, chairman of the Committee on the Present Status of Classical Education, in sponsoring a Latin Week in the various states. Miss Rosalie Montanye, Delta, was chosen as student chairman. Other student members selected at the time were Miss Mary Murray, Alpha Alpha, and Mr. J. W. Lynn, Alpha Omega.

Reports are late in coming to Miss Montanye, and a full account of the activities of this committee is consequently not possible now. Miss Montanye sent information concerning the Latin Week program to each prytanis of the organization and urged chapter cooperation with the state chairman.

Chapter reports have revealed that this cooperation has been effected and that a number of the chapters have been active this year in assisting with Latin Week activities. The accelerated programs of the high schools have somewhat thwarted what members at the National Convention last spring hoped could be accomplished, but definite efforts have been made, high schools have been contacted, and something, at least, of original intentions has been carried out.

Members everywhere will be pleased to learn of the acceptance of the petition of Wake Forest College, North Carolina. Plans are under way for the installation of the new chapter although they have not been completed as yet. It is to be hoped that representatives from Alpha Nu Chapter (Davidson College) will be able to be present.

The new chapter will be known as Beta Iota.

Summary of Report of the Executive Secretary

By Mary K. Brokaw

The report of the activities of the offices of Executive Secretary, editor of the NUNTIUS, and Registrar of the Eta Sigma Phi Medal as submitted to the Board of Trustees is too long and detailed to be given in its entirety here. A brief resume is possible, however, and it is presented here so that members everywhere may form some notion of the activities of the organization this year.

To the regular tasks of the offices mentioned above there has been added for the last two years the duty of general supervision of the Essay Contest which has been sponsored by the Board of Trustees. This year printed announcements of the details of the Contest were mailed to all the schools and colleges, as in the past. There was a discouraging lack of correspondence on the part of interested faculty members or students, but, under the circumstances, the number of contestants this year—20—compares very favorably, I think, with the total last year of 34. The decision of the judges of the Contest is still pending.

The usual correspondence with local chapters has been held this year, although pressure of extra teaching assignments has prevented my writing and keeping so well informed on local situations as in the past. Further difficulties have arisen lately by the loss to the armed forces of two of the national officers, Megas Prytanis Grayson Clary and Megas Grammateus John Krieger. The appointment of acting officers has seemed to provide a remedy for the situation.

As in the past, membership certificates have been mailed to chapters requesting them. Forty cards for the current year have gone out, and thirty for the year 1941-42. The number for this year will be increased as spring initiations are held.

Of the items covered in the questionnaire annually sent to the chapters the membership totals are probably the most interesting currently. Thirty-four chapters reported a total of 395 active members, 217 honorary members, 202 initiates, and 50 members who have joined the armed forces. Thirty-six chapters last year reported a total of 453 active members and 225 initiates.

The figure representing the number in the armed forces is, of course, unreliable, and the total is doubtless far larger.

The publication of the NUNTIUS has become a routine task. Once the organizational frame-work has been assembled, it becomes mostly a matter each time of following a definite procedure. The office regularly sends out a card as a reminder to some official in each chapter, and with laudable promptness there comes back a report of chapter activity. In spite of changing personnel this year, anyone who has read the first three issues of the magazine this year will be impressed, I think, by the unmistakable evidence of no lessening of activity either on the local campuses or in the local high schools. It speaks well for the even temper of our members that in times like these they have followed their course of action with so little deviation.

Probably the most distracting matter in connection with the publication this year has been clerical, the matter of keeping our mailing list, that is, our addresses, up-to-date, as more and more of our membership have joined the armed forces. We have not done so good a job as I should have liked in the matter of mailing copies of the publication. The fault lies in two directions: our lack of information and obvious errors on the part of the postal authorities

Three issues of the magazine have appeared, and of these the following numbers of copies have been mailed: November—436; January—422; March—465. The May issue we hope to publish very early in May in order that it may reach most of our members before their schools close.

Prior to publication date we shall send out cards asking for names and addresses of officers next year. With such information at hand it is much easier to get under way in the fall. We have been unusually successful in the past in securing this type of data in the spring. I anticipate some trouble this year, but I know the chapters will cooperate as best they can.

As Registrar of the Eta Sigma Phi Medal, I am obliged to present a rather incomplete report at this time, for the bulk of the activity of this office falls in the spring in the commencement season. The following is of April 15. A total of 65 Medals has been sold; at the same date last year the total was 103, as contrasted with 119 of the previous year.

We took the precaution last year of increasing the blanket order for Medals so that we should not be caught this year without an ample supply. There appears to be no reason for concern on that score.

As in the past, an ad will appear this year in the Classical Journal (the May issue). The magazine has very generously donated the space to us, following precedent.

A complete financial report is impossible now, but as of April 15 the balance in the bank was $203.75.

This completes my report of the activities of the offices of Executive Secretary, Editor of the Nuntius, and Registrar of the Eta Sigma Phi Medal. I should like to take this opportunity to express my thanks to all those who have helped so much in the work of these offices—to the members of the Board of Trustees, to the national officers of the organization, to the faculty members of Page Four the various chapters, and to the local officers and members who have been called upon for services and have given them so willingly.

We face next year the greatest trial for existence that the organization has ever encountered. Some chapters will undoubtedly be obliged to suspend activities for a time, others will find their normal sphere of action drastically reduced, but whatever the local pictures may be, however pessimistically we may view our local circumstances, the faith in the classics and the faith in the serious purpose and the high ideals of our organization can never be destroyed. It is that faith that will carry us through the bleak times ahead and will result in a stronger organization than ever, once the war is over and the humanities come into their own again.

Report of the Board of Trustees

By Professor Horace W. Wright, Chairman

The Board of Trustees has little to report this year of a financial nature. According to the plan voted at Williamsburg, $1400 more of the Fraternity's capital assets were invested in May in United States Series G Defense Savings Bonds, at 21/2%, making a total of $3800 so invested. Professor Wright transferred these from Bethlehem, Pennsvlvania, to the care of Professor Hill and Miss Brokaw in Athens, Ohio, and they are now there in a bank box in the name of the Fraternity in The Bank of Athens. The Government continues to send the interest semiannually to Professor Wright, who deposits it in the savings account in the name of the Fraternity in the First National Bank and Trust Company of Bethlehem. At the time of writing this report, the balance in the account was $136.61.

Alpha Nu Plans for Next Year

Davidson College
By WILLIAM C. ROBINSON, JR.
At its last meeting Alpha Nu Chapter initiated seven new members and installed the Chapter officers for next year. James M. Robinson took office as prytanis, and Robert E. Hillinger, hyparchos. The Chapter grammateus and chrysophylax will be elected next fall from the men who have just been initiated. The new members are Bill Joiner, Park Moore, Jim McDonald, Alf McNair, Bill Sengel, Ed Pickard, and Hoyt Evans.

Mr. Hollinger plans to base the next program on a study of several of the famous battles of antiquity as portrayed in the writings of the classic authors. The last two programs have been on the mythology of Greece and Rome, with discussions of the theories of the origin of myths, reports on some of the more famous of the stories and characters of mythology, and examples of the influence of classic literature on the literature of England.

Beta Alpha Assists in Latin Week

University of South Dakota By Marietta Johnsen

At a recent meeting of the Chapter letters were read from former members of Beta Alpha who are now in the armed services. These letters came from Corporal Walter Parkildson in Africa and from Corporals Alfred Thompson and Winton Solberg in Georgia. Lieutenant Don Lillibridge, U. S. Marines, visited the Chapter on his way to his new base.

On April 6, Miss Marylee Steward and Mr. Philip Egan were initiated. Participants in the ceremony wore the customary Roman dress.

Letters have been sent to all Latin teachers in South Dakota urging wide observance of Latin Week and asking for reports on their activities. Another major project this spring has been to contact all former pupils of Dr. A. L. Keith concerning contributions to the scholarship fund which has been started as a memorial to him.

At a recent meeting motion pictures dealing with Rome and the Punic Wars were shown.

The final meeting of the year will be a picnic after which Mr. Lloyd Richardson will be initiated.

Sigma Chapter Miami University By BETTY LYDING

Sigma Chapter held a special formal initiation for Miss June Ellen Mowrey on March 18, 1943, at the home of Miss Annabel Cathcart, an alumna. Refreshments and a social period followed the ceremony.

The April meeting of Sigma Chapter was devoted to the election of officers for next year.

Plans for the last meeting of the year, to be held May 20, are not yet completed; but it will include the installation of officers. Members of Sigma Chapter are also looking forward to the annual Classical Club picnic to be held in May.

Alpha Omicron To Entertain High School Students

Lawrence College By Joan Green

At the April meeting members of Alpha Omicron Chapter accomplished a great deal. First of all a new member, Miss Dolores Horrig, was initiated. Then election of officers was held and Miss Betsy Ross is the new prytanis. Miss Jeanne Tyler is hyparchos; Miss Norma Crow, grammateus; Miss Marjorie Alson, chrysophylax; and Miss Joan Green is the new Nuntius correspondent. The officers were installed and took over their new duties right away.

For the May meeting members are entertaining the third and fourth year Latin students of the Appleton Senior High School and their instructors, Miss Elsie Kopplin and Miss Lavern Kneibusch. The date has not been set as yet, but Miss Jeanne Tyler is busy completing the plans for the tea which is to be held in the college Latin Library. This tea will end activities for the present college year.

Alpha Gamma Chapter

Southern Methodist University
By Kenneth Irish

Alpha Gamma Chapter has been relatively inactive this year because of war The grammateus, Mr. conditions. Kenneth Irish, succeeded to the office of prytanis after the regularly elected prytanis, Mrs. James E. Burch, temporarily left school to join her husband, a commissioned officer who was about to be sent overseas. Also the deuterohyparchos, Mr. James Martin, did not return to school this year, and the protohyparchos, Mr. Rufus McKnight, entered the armed services in the Military Police Corps. To round out the picture the pyloros, Mr. Dan Wingren, was called into the Amphibious Engineers.

In the early part of May there will be an initiation and pledging service. Those eligible for initiation are Walter Cartwright, Joy Day, Ann Carolyn Franks, Kathryn Johnson, Neill McFarland, and Patricia Savage. Eligible for pledging are Mrs. Irene Melburn Bean, Martha Bell, Selden Marth, Donald Sneed, Betty McKnight, Robert Metzger, and Virginia Zelfel.

Alpha Lambda Has Initiation

University of Oklahoma

By Ruth Collier McSpadden

Alpha Lambda Chapter held its initiation service April 27. Those initiated were Jeanne Grogan, Marjorie Jean Noe, Marjorie Samuelson, Phyllis Stillwell, Mrs. Doris June Thompson, Martha Colvert, Betty Bob Angerman, Cornelia Lasley, Minnie Smith, Harriet Karchmer, Mary Beth Philpin, Harriet Hoy, Alvin Yapalator, and June Ann Jordan.

Following the initiation a banquet was held in honor of the new initiates. Mr. William M. Sattler, chairman of the Department of Speech, was the guest speaker.

Omega News

College of William and Mary By Iris Shelley

On April 26 Omega Chapter in connection with Chi Delta Phi, the honorary society for women writers, gave a reception for the 1943 Phi Beta Kappa speaker, Dr. Edwin Mims of Vanderbilt University. Mr. Jack Carter was appointed chairman of Omega's committee.

The Orchesis dance group with the help of Dr. Ryan is dancing the Second Choral Ode from the Antigone. Mr. Sly, noted composer and head of the Music Department at William and Mary, is composing the music. It has proved an important experience—translating movement to express the thought into the meter of the words. It will be given for the entire college on May 6, in Blow Gymnasium in connection with the Personal Development program which replaces Orchesis' spring program. Dr. Ryan made a literal translation of the words and formulated the meter for the group.

Alpha Chi Presents 'Mostellaria'

H. Sophie Newcomb Memorial College By Thaia Leopold

This month Alpha Chi has exchanged a course in Roman history for one in Roman histrionics! Together with Oreades, the local Classical Club at Newcomb, the chapter presented the Mostellaria of Plautus, translated into the English language by the Junior class in Latin Comedy. The play was presented before the whole University Tuesday, April 27, and judging from the cordial way it was received, the members think they have convinced Tulane that Latin is more alive than "dead." The following day the most amusing scenes were given again, as part of the High-School Day program at Newcomb. Senior students of all New Orleans high schools attended. Alpha Chi thus cooperated with the national program of interesting high school students, and they all seemed much impressed with the "propaganda."

Plans are now being made for the meeting at which next year's officers will be elected.

Beta Theta Gives 'Lysistrata'

Hampden-Sydney College By John A. Lewis Ruff

Judging from the laughter of the large number of students who gathered in the Union Philanthropic Literary Society Hall, for the Eta Sigma Phi play on the evening of Thursday, March 25, the effort was not in vain. Occasion for the great rejoicing was the presentation of Aristophanes' well-known comedy Lysistrata by Beta Theta Chapter in conjunction with the Literary Society. The play was a success, and the audience left with a new and delightful idea of Greek drama.

Members of Beta Theta starred in the production, managing their anatomy somewhat better than their lines. All played their roles well, however, though there was a general sentiment that certain members of the audience were better fitted for some of the parts than were the members of the cast who played them.

Mr. Cary Suter introduced the plav with a description of Aristophanes' style and of his aim in writing the play. He gave a brief outline of the play, apologized for the crudeness of the stage, lighting, acting, and costumes, and told why some of the play had been cut.

The cast included Royal Cabell as the heroine, Lysistrata; Bob Irby as Myrhhine; Ioe Nelson as Cineas; Rog Stuart as Calinice; Jimmy Timberlake as Lampito; and John Ruff as one of the women and later as the envoy from Sparta. Melvin Tennis and Billy Webb played minor roles.

Page Eight

Every actor was his own press-agent and the room was crowded with spectators—not all of whom were merely spectators. Time and again, when the actors failed to produce more than a hearty chuckle, a merry quip from the pit would throw the audience into gales of mirth. No attempt was made to quell the roar, for after all, it's not every day a play is given before such a large house.

The plot of the play centers around the war between Athens and neighboring states. The women of Athens, under the leadership of Lysistrata, carry out a plan to end the war. The plan works.

Inevitable result of the performance: tremendous run on the Library's stock of translated Greek. (Maybe the B.A. degree isn't so useless after all.)

Ouoting from an editorial in the Hampden-Sydney Tiger: "To the classical fraternity must go the credit for the first signs of life shown by any of the honorary fraternities on the campus this year."

Alpha Rho Observes Latin Week

Muhlenberg College By William C. Leopold

The March meeting of Alpha Rho Chapter was held at the home of Professor Reichard. A well-prepared and entertaining paper on Tacitus and his Germania was presented by Mr. James Yoder. Plans were discussed concerning the annual Roman banquet, which has been the highlight of the second semester's activities for several years. There is a grave possibility that this social function may have to be foregone this year because of wartime food restrictions.

The Chapter, in observance of Latin Week, is planning a program based either on Caesar, or on a satire by Horace. This program will be presented at an Allentown High School assembly.

Alpha Tau Completes Active Year

Ohio State University By Therese Wise

Alpha Tau has been engaged for the past year in remodeling the Wallace Stedman Elden Memorial Library. The Library was painted in deep Pompeian red to a height of three feet from the floor with silvery gray above and an off-white ceiling. On the wall opposite the bookcase that was built by the University to house Professor Elden's library, there will be painted on the gray background a mural of the Mediterranean World at the time of Augustus. The Chapter has furnished dranes for the window and is arranging for rugs and chairs.

The Classical Department has possession of a page from an old manuscript which has a sketch of the Roman Colosseum on one side and writing on the reverse side. This manuscript is being framed for the Library.

The formal initiation banquet will be held early in the spring quarter at the Faculty Club in order that some of the neophytes may become members before joining the armed forces.

At the May meeting Dr. Hough will show his coin and stamp collection and will also present slides on Roman life. A picnic will bring the year's activities to a close.

Alpha Epsilon Chapter

Lehigh University
By RANDALL GIDDINGS

Alpha Epsilon Chapter met at the home of Dr. Crum, April 8, where, in the business meeting, it was voted to suspend any part of the Constitution which would be deemed necessary by the faculty adviser and the remaining number of the students for the duration. It also empowered the faculty adviser and the faculty members to continue the Chapter, in case there should be no more student members left.

New members were elected, and a tentative date was set for initiation and the installation of new officers. The new members include Francis Tatem, Francis Taylor, Charles Winters, Herman Bastianelli, and Howard Prentzel.

Delta Entertains High School Students

Franklin College By VIRGINIA HART

Delta Chapter made plans during the month of April to celebrate Latin Week. In cooperation with the high school Latin teachers, some of the members arranged special bulletin boards and exhibits in the high school. Also instead of the regular monthly meeting, the group held a guest meeting in the dormitory, inviting the high school Latin students along with some alumni in Franklin who were members of Eta Sigma Phi. Miss Helen White gave an excellent review of the book The Robe, and "Ave Maria" was sung in Latin by one of the members, after which refreshments were served to the guests.

On April 21 a tapping service was held in Chapel for two new pledges, Miss Mary Elizabeth Bland and Miss Carolyn Griffin.

Alpha Delta Chapter

Agnes Scott College By Anastasia Carlos

Continuing the yearly program of talks on the Latin and Greek worlds, members of Alpha Delta Chapter have devoted their last two monthly meetings to varied discussions.

The first of the series of discussions, held in March, was led by Miss Gwen Hill and Miss Rosalie Sturtevant who conducted a lively discussion of the progress of civilization since classical times.

Page Nine

Miss Susan Guthrie and Miss Anne Paisley had charge of the April meeting. Miss Guthrie talked about the Athenian democracy and Miss Paisley about the Spartan oligarchy. Both pointed out the easy comparison that could be made between Germany and Sparta, and Athens and America, and between this World War and the Peloponnesian Wars.

The Chapter has offered medals to a student in each of the high schools in Atlanta and Decatur for excellence in fourth-year Latin. The six medals given by the Chapter will be presented on honors day in the high schools.

Beta Eta Chapter News Westminster College

By John H. Vanlandingham

Beta Eta Chapter has had a very active year. On February 22, Reynold Hamlin was initiated into the Chapter at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Jonah W. D. Skiles, faculty adviser. Following the initiation refreshments were served by Mrs. Skiles. Mr. Hamlin has since been inducted into the U.S. Army.

Another meeting was held on April 12. At this time four members were initiated. They were Billy Thomas, Marshall Gurthie, Richard Moore, and John Frederick. Following the initiation, officers were elected for the coming

The Chapter voted to offer a prize to the student making the best grade in Latin in each of the high schools in Callaway County. This prize is to be awarded each year. After the business meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Skiles.

Beta Eta Chapter is looking forward to another visit by Dr. Walter Miller of the University of Missouri. Dr. Miller will give an illustrated lecture on "The Bombed Cities of Italy" on May 6. This lecture was made possible through the gift of Dr. H. M. Bankhead of Fulton, Missouri.

Lambda Chapter

University of Mississippi By Thomas J. Griffith, Jr.

Reade Washington, chairman of the program committee for Lambda, planned five meetings during the spring semester at Ole Miss, featuring discussions of various phases of Greek and Roman culture.

The first meeting was held March 4 at the home of Mrs. Alexander Bondurant, and Miss Joye Eason and Mr. Milton Perry addressed the chapter on "Entertainments." The April 1 meeting was held at the home of Dr. Alfred William Milden, chairman of the University's Department of the Classics, with "Literature" for the theme. Miss Lilian McElroy, prytanis, spoke on Cicero, and Mr. Thomas Griffith spoke on Demosthenes.

Miss Evelyn Lee Way, professor of Latin, entertained the chapter April 15 when Mr. Frank Hill and Miss Gladys Gordon discussed Greek and Roman "Family Life." On April 29 Mr. Boyd Goodwin selected Pericles and Mr. Warren Peeler took Augustus as representative of the "Famous Persons" of Greece and Rome. The last meeting, on May 15, featured "Religion," and Mrs. Lottie Lee Flowers and Miss Helen House led the discussion.

Annual Banquet at Gamma

Ohio University

By Martha E. Hesson

Gamma Chapter initiated two new members April 27, at the home of Professor and Mrs. V. D. Hill.

After the initiation and election of officers for next year, members and alumni guests assembled at the Eastwood for the annual banquet. Professor Hill addressed the chapter on the challenge faced by students of the classics in times of national chaos. Mistress of ceremonies was Miss Helen Carle.
