Eileen Wickline

NATIONAL SECRETARY PLANS TO TEACH LANGUAGES

Eileen Wickline, National Secretary of Eta Sigma Phi and Prytanis of Gamma Chapter, is now a Junior at Ohio University and is majoring in Latin and Spanish. She is a native of Racine, Ohio, where she attended school. In addition to taking part in many activities in high school, such as playing in the band, acting leading rolls in plays, and editing the year book, Eileen found time to study. She was Valedictorian of her class and county winner in both the Senior Scholarship Test and the D. A. R. Citizenship Test.

Winning a scholarship encouraged her to enter Ohio University. Here maintaining a good scholastic record interested Eileen more than activities. Her election to Alpha Lambda Delta, Kappa Delta Pi, honorary organization for students in education, and Eta Sigma Phi and her grade point average of 3.9 indicate that she is successful in this ambition. She won the Alpha Delta Pi Scholarship Prize for the Sophomore woman with highest average on the basis of three semesters of work. The Woman's League Award was given to her for her outstanding service to a campus organization, which was Eta Sigma Phi. Last year she was honored by being invited to join the Cutler Society. This group is made up of outstanding students who are permitted some freedom in the selection of their courses and are encouraged to do something besides regular class work in order that they may have greater breadth of vision and a better background than the average student. Eileen participates in the Evangelical United Brethren Youth Group and is a member of the Campus Religious Council.

Eileen plans to teach and hopes that she may be able to teach in college; she is however preparing herself to teach in high school. She has not decided whether she prefers Latin or Spanish, so at present she is majoring in both. Readers of The Nuntius will hope that she chooses Latin. After completing her undergraduate work she will go ahead for a Master's degree if she receives a fellowship. Eileen says: "I am eagerly looking forward to my career in the study and teaching of foreign languages."

WISCONSIN STATE CONVENTION

The Fourth Annual Wisconsin State Eta Sigma Phi Convention was held at Mount Mary College, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, on December 10, 1955, with Beta Omicron Chapter as host. About forty people were in attendance at the several sessions. Sister Mary Dorothea, faculty adviser of Beta Omicron Chapter, reports that the convention was "truly a decided success". The local papers were very cooperative in giving fine publicity to the convention and in reporting the meeting with photographs.

The meeting opened at 10:45 a.m. with Marianne Jansen, Prytanis of Beta Omicron, as the presiding officer.

AN ANNOUNCEMENT OF FOUR AWARDS

For 1955-56, Eta Sigma Phi, national undergraduate honorary classical fraternity, announces the following four Contests. Further information may be had from the Chairman of Contests, W. C. Korfmacher, Saint Louis University, 3647 West Pine Boulevard, Saint Louis 8, Missouri.

1. Eleventh Annual Essay Contest:

(a) Subject: "The Claims of Greek in Liberal Arts College Curricula in the Coming Years of Increased Enrollments."

(b) Eligibility: The Contest is open to college undergraduates, enrolled at the time of submission of the paper in a course of Greek or Latin in an approved college or university in the United States or Canada.

(c) Identification: Each paper submitted is to be accompanied by an identification page, available in advance from the Chairman of Contests, giving necessary information and including a testimonial from a member of the classics faculty at the contestant's school as to the contestant's right to participate and his fair and original preparation of the paper. There is a limit of five papers from any one school.

(d) Qualifications: All papers must be original. Sincerity, definiteness, and originality will be especially considered. Quotations must be duly credited. Format, mode of citation, and the like, must be uniform within the paper. Entries must be typewritten, in double space, on one side only of normalized typewriter paper. The maximum length is 2,250 words.

(e) Dates: Written notice of a desire to participate, postmarked not later than February 1, 1956, must be sent to the Chairman of Contests. Entries themselves, similarly sent, must be postmarked not later than February 15, 1956.

(f) Decision: Decision as to place will be made by an expert judge who will identify the papers by code designation only.

(g) Prizes: First, $50.00; second, $35.00; third, $25.00; fourth, $17.50; fifth, $12.50; sixth, $10.00. For its full award, the Contest will require a minimum of fifteen entries, from fifteen different schools.

2. Seventh Annual Greek Translation Contest:

(a) Content: The Contest will consist in the sight translation of a passage in Greek chosen with an eye to students in the second year of the language or above. Translations will be written in a two-hour period, under normal examination regulations, in each contestant's own school.

(b) Eligibility: The Contest is open to college undergraduates, enrolled at the time of participation in a course in Greek language in an approved college or university in the United States or Canada.

(c) Identification: Each paper submitted is to be accompanied by an identification page, as in the Essay Contest. There is a limit of five papers from any one school.

(d) Dates: Written notice of a desire to participate, postmarked not later than February 1, 1956, must be sent to the Chairman of Contests, who will mail the Contest material in time for the contest day. The Contest will be administered simultaneously in all the participating schools on February 8, 1956. Entries themselves, addressed to the Chairman of Contests, must be postmarked not later than February 15, 1956.

(e) Decision: Decision as to place will be made by an expert judge, who will identify the papers by code designation only.

(f) Prizes: Six prizes will be offered, as in the Essay Contest, except that any participant placing in both events will receive an added award equal to what he wins in the Greek Translation Contest. For its full award, the Contest will require a minimum of fifteen entries, from fifteen different schools.

3. Sixth Annual Satterfield Latin Translation Contest:

(a) Content: The Contest will consist in the original translation of a passage in Latin to be supplied on request by the Chairman of Contests. Translations will be written as normal "out-of-class" work, not as examinations.

(b) Eligibility: The Contest is open to college undergraduates, enrolled at the time of participation in an approved college or university in the United States or Canada.

(c) Identification: Each paper submitted is to be accompanied by an identification page, as in the Essay Contest. There is a limit of five papers from any one school.

(d) Dates: Written notice of a desire to participate, postmarked not later than February 1, 1956, must be sent to the Chairman of Contests, who will mail the Contest material in ample time for the closing date. Entries themselves similarly sent, must be postmarked not later than February 15, 1956.

(e) Decision: Decision as to place will be made by an expert judge, who will identify the papers by code designation only.

(f) Prize: A prize of $25.00 will be given for the best paper.

4. Fourth Annual Chapter Foreign Language Census:

(a) Content: The Contest will consist in a report of foreign language credits held by college undergraduates, and these credits will be totalled (with weightings in favor of Greek, Latin, Sanskrit, and Hebrew) according to a system, to be sent on request, by the Chairman of Contests.

(b) Eligibility: The Contest is among chapters of Eta Sigma Phi Fraternity, and hence reports will be accepted only from college undergraduates who are chapter members and attending the college or university to which the chapter belongs.

(c) Identification: Each report submitted must be signed by the faculty sponsor of the chapter to which the entrant belongs. A chapter may send as many entries as it wishes, but only one award will be given any one chapter.

(d) Dates: Written notice of a desire to participate, postmarked not later than February 1, 1956, must be sent to the Chairman of Contests. Entries themselves, similarly sent, must be postmarked not later than February 15, 1956.

(e) Decision: As decision on place is a matter merely of mathematical calculation, it will be handled in the office of the Chairman of Contests.

(f) Prizes: For the chapter reporting a student with the highest number of points, $25.00; second, $15.00; third, $10.00.

Joseph S. Donchez

NATIONAL TREASURER TO ATTEND THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

Joseph S. Donchez, National Treasurer of Eta Sigma Phi, has the distinction of being the only national officer of the fraternity who is married. In March 1950, two months before he was discharged from the U. S. Army, he married Linda Atiyeh. Jeffrey Joseph Donchez was born in January 1952 and Joseph says that he is a "proud father."

Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, is Joseph's birthplace, where he was born in 1930. He attended grammar, junior high, and high school here. After he was graduated from Liberty High School, he served in the Army Signal Corps for two years. Allentown, Pennsylvania, is Linda's home, and she and Joseph made their home here from 1950 until 1952 while Joseph worked at Western Electric Co.

At present our National Treasurer is a Senior at Muhlenberg College, which he entered in the fall of 1952. He is a major in the Department of History and has been on the Dean's List every semester except one, his first in college. He has devoted considerable time to the study of languages. He has taken three years of German, one year of Latin, and is now in his second year of Greek.

In addition to being a father and a good student, Joseph finds time to participate in many activities. He is President of the Class of 1956, which automatically makes him President of the Freshman Class for the first semester of this year. He is also President of the Alpha Rho Chapter of Eta Sigma Phi, and an active member of Phi Alpha Theta, national honorary fraternity for students of history, Deutsche Verein, and Omicron Delta Kappa. He serves on the Student Council also.

Next fall Joseph plans to enter Princeton Theological Seminary. He intends to become a minister in parish work.

Sister M. John Francis, S.S.N.D., President of Mount Mary College, welcomed the members of the convention. Gamma Epsilon Chapter, University of Wisconsin, presented the first panel discussion: "A Challenge to Liberal Education." Following lunch and the business session the second panel: "Dignified Publicity for the Classics" was presented by Donald R. Haight and Jerry Moorback of Beta Gamma Chapter, Marquette University. "Two Sides of a Picture as Students See It: The Shortage of Latin Teachers—What can WE do about it?" was discussed by the representatives of Gamma Gamma Chapter, Wisconsin State College. The afternoon session closed with a discussion: "Shortage of Latin Students: What can WE do about it?" by Carole Sikors, Charlette Jager, Carol Mayer and Kay Weibler of Beta Omicron Chapter, Mount Mary College.

A banquet was held at 6:00 p.m. in the college dining hall, which was beautifully lighted with dozens of gold and purple candles. The menus, written in Latin, were gold and tied with purple. The address of Professor George McMullen was followed by a very entertaining program. Jean La Brache sang Gounod's Ave Maria and Margaret Schaefer played Saint-Saens' Le Cygne as a flute solo. Ebb Tide on Attic Shores was interpreted in dance form by J. Hamilton. Sue Goldammer, Barbara Biebel, Mary Ellen Lindquist, and Bette Drossart, dressed in authentic costumes, sang Horace's Hymn to Apollo. A highlight of the evening was the presentation of the "Urn Scene" from Sophocles' Electra by Joan Hanser, who played the part of Electra in the recent presentation by Mount Mary College Theatre, and did an extraordinarily fine bit of acting, according to our reporter. Gaudeamus Igitur, sung by the Chorus, closed the program.

In looking over our roll of active chapters the National Secretary discovers that there are seven chapters of Eta Sigma Phi in Ohio and five in Pennsylvania. Several other states have more than one chapter. Perhaps in the near future it may be possible to report other state conventions from some of these states.

EXECUTIVE SECRETARY

Professor H. R. Butts
Birmingham-Southern College, Birmingham 4, Alabama

FROM YOUR EDITOR

The Constitution of Eta Sigma Phi permits the various chapters a great amount of autonomy in selecting members. Some chapters which draw members from large enrollments in their Departments of Classics are able to maintain rather high standards of eligibility, but chapters which are located in schools of small enrollment have sometimes been forced to lower their standards to some extent. It is expected, of course, that all chapters will maintain as high standards as possible and certainly comply with the requirements of the Constitution. From time to time there have been discussions of the eligibility rules, particularly since some chapters fear that others are not as strict as they should be in this matter. It has occurred to the National Office that it might be worth while to discuss this matter in detail at the next annual meeting. In order that the discussion may be better organized, the Executive Secretary requests that the adviser or prytanis of each chapter send him within the next month a statement of the requirements for membership of his chapter and any comments on the problem of eligibility which may have come to his mind. It is preferable that the matter be taken care of in this manner instead of by the circulation of a questionnaire.

It is time for the chapters to be making arrangements to award the Eta Sigma Phi medals in the high schools, since commencement time will be here before too long. If you do not have information about the medals for second and fourth year Latin Students, write to the Registrar of the Medal Fund, Professor H. Lloyd Stow, Vanderbilt University, Nashville 5, Tennessee, for information.

The advertisement of the new Owl Key which was carried in the May 1955 issue is reprinted below for the information of those who may have failed to see the first announcement and to remind others that it is available, since it is not yet carried in the regular Balfour advertisement on page 15. In the opinion of the present editor this key is preferable to the other type for several reasons: it is distinctive, the letters are legible, and it bears our motto. In addition it has the appearance of the key of an honor society, whereas the other type looks more like the pin of a social fraternity. Perhaps its greatest asset is that it shows the owl of our "patron goddess Athena." The key must be ordered through your chapter officers.

AMONG THE CHAPTERS

LAMBDA, UNIVERSITY OF MISSISSIPPI

Professor Evelyn Way, faculty adviser of Lambda Chapter, says that the chapter has twelve active members this year and twelve members of Eta Sigma Phi among the members of the faculty and staff of the University. The chapter meets once a month and the programs usually consist of talks by students and faculty members. The members of the chapter have contracted for a half page in the annual, which is considered of significance by the members of the chapter. Professor Way spent the summer in Europe.

Professor William H. Willis, Chairman of the Department of Classics, has informed the National Office of two ancient Biblical manuscripts which the Friends of the Library Association of the University of Mississippi are undertaking to purchase for the library through contributions. The manuscripts, one papyrus and one parchment, are written in Coptic. One of the manuscripts is even older than the Yonan Codex, now on exhibit at the Library of Congress. The parchment codex contains a major part of Jeremiah and Lamentations. The papyrus codex contains the Book of Jude, one of the Epistles of Peter, the Book of Jonah, and a treatise on Easter by the second-century Bishop Melito of Sardis. This work, Peri Pascha, mentioned by Eusebius, has been known only from a fragmentary University of Michigan codex prior to the discovery of this manuscript. If these are secured for the University of Mississippi Library, it will be a great asset for the Department of Classics and for students who do graduate work at Mississippi.

PI, BIRMINGHAM-SOUTHERN COLLEGE

Pi Chapter held its first initiation for the year 1955-56 on November 17, at which time eight new members were initiated. The initiates were guests of the chapter at a tea before the ceremony. The officers of the chapter were particularly pleased with the interest and cooperation shown by the members of the chapter. The main item of interest for this year is to make plans for entertaining the delegates to the Twenty-eighth National Convention.

ALPHA PI, GETTYSBURG COLLEGE

Alpha Pi Chapter initiated twenty-one new members in October, according to the report of Prytanis Robert Mack. The initiation was followed by a social period.

For the December meeting the chapter cooperated with Alpha Kappa Alpha, national honorary society for students of philosophy, in sponsoring an open lecture on The Dead Sea Scrolls. Dr. Jacob Myers, Professor of Old Testament at Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary, was the speaker.

BETA ALPHA, UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH DAKOTA

Through an error your editor failed to report in the November issue that Beta Alpha Chapter sponsored a high school Latin Contest last spring. The essay was The Value of Latin to me, and all entries had real merit and the judging was not easy, according to Miss Jo Ann Sweeney, Graduate Assistant in Latin at South Dakota and former National Secretary of Eta Sigma Phi. Four prizes were awarded.

Three new members were initiated into Beta Alpha Chapter at the May meeting. Following a banquet the members went to the observatory on the campus to look at the constellations through the telescope and to hear a lecture on mythology in the stars.

Miss Sweeney reports that John Wicks was most enthusiastic about attending the convention at Fredericksburg and that "he could hardly talk fast enough to tell us all about it when we met him at the train."

BETA OMICRON, MOUNT MARY COLLEGE

The production of Sophocles' Electra by the Mount Mary College Theatre was mentioned in the report of the Wisconsin State Convention. The readers might be interested to know that this was presented without intermission as the first half of a production with Christopher Fry's A Phoenix Too Frequent. The Chorus of Mycenaean Women was played by three young ladies. The program included a most interesting discussion of Sophocles, his use of the chorus, and his Electra.

Beta Omicron Chapter is fortunate in having a number of devoted and interested alumnae members. These are a great help to the chapter.

BETA SIGMA, MARQUETTE UNIVERSITY

(Report omitted from November issue by error.)

At its last meeting for 1955 Beta Sigma Chapter initiated as honorary member Dr. George C. A. Boehrer, Department of History, who had shown unusual interest in the

Classics and had helped make a success of Beta Sigma's attempts to sponsor cultural activities on the campus.

Michael Dunn, retiring Prytanis of Beta Sigma, reported in June that the last two meetings of 1955 were extremely interesting. At one Dr. Michael Moloney of the Department of English read a paper on The Decline of Classics in Catholic Colleges, which was published in America Magazine, a Jesuit weekly news magazine, on April 16. At the other meeting there was a panel discussion on the debt of English studies to the Classics, "an interesting subject, which was capably treated by three of Milwaukee University's Professors of English, all of whom have won national recognition among English teachers. They certainly provided a host of insights into the value of the Classics in a contemporary intellectual atmosphere," to quote Mr. Dunn.

BETA TAU, GEORGETOWN UNIVERSITY

The first formal meeting of Beta Tau Chapter was an initiation for twenty-three new members on October 25 under the direction of Francis McGarry, the initiation chairman. The total membership of Beta Tau is now forty-three members.

The program for the year includes a series of lectures encompassing the field of thought and culture in general of the Classics, as well as the Classics themselves. The Rev. Norris Clarke, S. J., Professor of Philosophy at Fordham University, delivered the first of these on November 7. He spoke on Various Aspects of Christian Humanism. The second, The Philosophy of History, was given by Professor Walter W. Wilkinson of the Department of History of Georgetown University on December 12. Discussion periods followed each of these lectures.

In addition to the lecture series Beta Tau has initiated a seminar series on Greek Tragedy. The members are to read various Greek plays and then meet to discuss them in seminar fashion. This is the first year that the seminar has been planned for the entire chapter.

Last year Beta Tau sponsored a Latin contest for high school students in the Washington area with good success. The chapter plans to sponsor this each year and is now making plans for the coming spring.

GAMMA GAMMA, WISCONSIN STATE COLLEGE

Dr. Ortha L. Wilner, faculty adviser of Gamma Gamma Chapter, says that her chapter is small but from the activities which she reports for it, Gamma Gamma is active. Last year it was the host to the Third Annual Wisconsin State Convention and it helped manage a Foreign Language-Secondary Education Institute, at which the principal speaker was Professor Mario Pei. Gamma Gamma also sponsors a contest in the schools where the students of Wisconsin State College do practice teaching and awards an Eta Sigma Phi medal for a second year student. Dr. Wilner reports that the chapter is working on the project of sending a delegate to the Twenty-Eighth National Convention.

GAMMA EPSILON, UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN

Miss Sally Spriggs, Prytanis of Gamma Epsilon Chapter, says that her chapter is working on a duplicate set of slides concerning Athens, which takes most of the time of the chapter this year. The chapter is also planning to assemble a set of slides on Roman coins, with the assistance of Professor Howe, Chairman of the Department of Classics. Gamma Epsilon was represented at the Wisconsin State Convention by a small delegation.

CONTEST WINNER IN FRIBOURG

Joseph E. Scannell, Jr., Beta Tau, winner of the Tenth Annual Essay Contest, is studying in Switzerland under Georgetown's "Junior Year in Fribourg" program. It was requested by the last national convention that his prize-winning essay on "Homer, Father of Western Epic Verse" be published in the Nuntius but Mr. Thomas E. Ambrogio, S. J., moderator of Eta Sigma Phi at Georgetown University, informs the National Office that he has been unable to locate a copy of the essay. The Journal, literary magazine of Georgetown, also plans to print Joseph's essay.

ALUMNI NEWS

James E. Lindsay, Alpha Upsilon, is attending Corpus Christi College, Oxford University, this year as a Fulbright Scholar. He will read for a degree in the honors school of politics, philosophy, and economics (the "modern greats").

Jo Ann Sweeney, Gamma Gamma, national secretary of Eta Sigma Phi 1954-55, served as graduate assistant in Latin at the University of South Dakota last year. She is now teaching Latin at North Chicago High School, Chicago, Illinois. She attended the meeting of the American Philological Association in Chicago during the Christmas holidays.
